Spirit, Unity, Cohesiveness Bring 'Hawg Rifle' Home

The "Hawg Rifle" has returned home! Symbolic of football supremacy between archrival Morehead and Eastern, the "Hawg Rifle" was won by a band of never-say-die sportsmen only ten days ago as Morehead dominated Eastern 21-0.

It had been a long time — 1949 to be exact — since the rifle rested on the Morehead campus and Guy Penny's hustlers are predicting that the prized trophy is here to stay for a long while.

But that will be decided on the gridiron next fall.

We won the football game and the record books will show forever that the more was 21-0. But we of the Trail Blazer staff feel that something far more important than victory resulted from the day spent on the Eastern campus.

We have known for some time that the spirit, unity and cohesiveness of the Morehead student body are at a peak never before known at this institution or at any other institution for that matter.

The magnificent display of student support which the Eagles received undeniably aided them as they fell behind 9-7 in the third quarter — only to roar back for two more touchdowns in the final period.

The 126-piece marching band, which takes a back seat to no band we have seen, put on a breathtaking half-time show which reflected the vigor, hard hours spent in rehearsal.

And then the superb Eagles . . . not enough can be said for Guy Penny's charges. Greatly outmanned in bench strength, the Eagles' iron-men seemed to grow stronger as the game wore on.

Led by seniors Buford Crager, Tom Scott, Henry Schutte and Bruce Howard, they were a tenacious crew who played with the determination of a team which just wouldn't accept defeat.

Yes, the "Hawg Rifle" has returned. And with it has come the realization that Morehead State College has that undefinable "something" which makes a great institution.

Call it spirit . . . call it unity . . . call it cohesiveness . . . call it what you may. But whatever you wish to call it, we have it in great abundance! And it's here to stay!

Thoughts On Thanksgiving

The Thanksgiving holiday is a time when our hearts should be filled with thankfulness.

Former President Roosevelt once led the nation with the following Thanksgiving prayer:

"Almighty God, who has given us this good land for our heritage; we humbly beseech thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of thy favor and glad to do thy will. Bless our land with honorable industry, sound learning, and pure manners. Save us from violence, discord, and confusion; from pride and arrogance, and from every evil way. Defend our liberties and freedom; and unite all people that are united to thee in bonds of sympathy and love. Endue with the spirit of wisdom those to whom in thy Name we entrust the authority of government, that there may be justice and peace at home, and that through obedience to thy law, we may show forth thy praise among the nations of the earth. In the time of prosperity, fill our hearts with thankfulness, and in the day of trouble suffer not our trust in thee to fail; all which we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Along with the theme of Thanksgiving, the Rev. Thomas Ditto relates these thoughts:

ABUNDANCE . . . A MEDIATION: "What a wonderful world God has created for His children! What beauty and riches in present in the procession of the seasons, each with a purpose to fulfill in the cycle of the year! This Autumn has brought a large measure of delight: October blue skies—white clouds in ever-moving patterns—harvest of fruit and grain—the savor of cool, zesty air—the variety and brilliance of color in fall flowers and changing leaves—the golden sunshine and glowing sunsets of the shortening days.

All these have blended into a pervading sense of completeness and quiet peace and flooded our hearts with a feeling of abundance. God, who provided so bountifully for nature, has planned for us also, to possess 'abundance'."

Support 'Better Dress Week'

Better Dress Week, to be held December 30-31, can only be a success if you, the student body, choose to make it so.

The purpose of Better Dress Week, is not for you to wear your "Sunday best" each day, but to "look" your very best . . . not only during this week, but every day of the year. Keep neatly groomed . . . strive for an attractive and pleasant appearance. Do those around you feel their spirits in your?

Attend the activities of the week: Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, noonday modeling in the cafeteria; Thursday, style show in chapel; Friday, supper in the cafeteria by candlelight and then the civil concert in Button Auditorium; Saturday, a basketball game against Tennessee Tech in the gymnasium, followed by a free formal dinner in the cafeteria of the Doran Student House.

Better Dress Week is an annual, all campus, affair and is sponsored by the Council of Presidents. In the past, this has been a most successful event . . . won't you support it this year, too?"

FOR SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Alumni Association Deserves Our Sincere Congratulations

The Morehead State College Alumni Association has created a much needed Alumni Scholarship Program, which deserves our sincere congratulations.

The objectives of the program are to assist in the total program of MSC and to express confidence and support to the philosophy of the institution by making educational opportunities available to more high school graduates.

The Association has established this program to emphasize the importance of the individual alumni concerning himself with the educational advancement of the youth of his area. This program will enable the MSC Alumni Association to be a more service-minded organization.

Scholarship awards in the amount of $50 per semester will continue for four full school years if the recipient meets the required standards of the Scholarship program and if the recipient shows evidence of continuing need of financial assistance.

Applications for these scholarships must be received in the Alumni Office at MSC by June 15.

All active members of the Alumni Association will be mailed a scholarship application so they may nominate a candidate. Other copies will be given upon receipt of such a request by the alumni office.

All regional high school principals and guidance counselors will be sent an explanation of the scholarship program so they can explain the program to the senior class.

The recipient shall be given a full-year to prove himself. If he does not meet the requirements during his next year, he may be dropped at the end of the first semester.

The number of scholarships to be awarded each year will depend on the available funds in the Morehead Alumni Scholarship Fund which must be continuously replenished.

The standards of the scholarship candidate are: he must have been in the upper one-third of his high school graduating class; he must have displayed good character and the desire to further develop his personal abilities and skills; he must have shown evidence of the need of financial assistance; and he must maintain an academic standing of 2.5 during the freshman year and 2.75 during the upperclass years in order to be eligible for renewal of the award.

The Scholarship Committee has the duty and responsibility of making all decisions relative to the awarding of the scholarships. The Committee will meet annually between June 15 and July 15 will determine the policies of the total program.

Billy Joe Hall, Director of Alumni Affairs, will serve as chairman of the Committee. Other members include Fola Hayes, Lexington; Cloyd McDowell, Harlan; Dr. W. D. Blair, Paintsville; John Collis, Morehead; and the president of the Alumni Association, Lloyd Cassidy. All of these alumni are dedicated to the service of their Alma Mater.

This program is indeed a major step toward encouraging qualified students to continue their education on the college level. The alumni group deserve sincere congratulations on their efforts and interest in education, students, and MSC.

Views On The Editorial Poll

QUESTION: "What does the 'Hawg Rifle' mean to you?"

Mary Campbell—Morehead can sleep in peace.

Buddy Hall—It's a sign of a better team and a great victory.

Steve Stein—Something to protect ourselves with.

Bill Lacy—Eastern was defeated. That's enough!

Bill McMichael—"The 'Hawg Rifle' represents the competitive spirit between Morehead and Eastern which was initiated by the Campus Club.

George Stevens—Dean Jesse Mays and the Campus Club back in 1932 when they made the idea a reality. It's one of the oldest and best traditions of our campus.

Deano Wiley—Now we can wipe the cobwebs out of the gun case and never have it empty again.

Once conquered—always conquered.

Victor Doyle—"I think it symbolizes great things that have happened to the college athletic program recently."

Jerry Marshall—I can go hunting this winter.

Lynn Crawford—That Morehead has made progress not only in the field of soccer, track, and debate, but also football.

Ted Hall—"It gives a lot of prestige to the college. Moreover, it has developed a lot more spirit among the students, as was shown in the number attending the game at Eastern. I also believe this spirit will carry over into the basketball season—winning the 'Hawg Rifle' will be one of the big impulses to this."

Bob Fraley—"I can remember the last time the Hawg Rifle was here—I was 8 or 9 years old. The Hawg Rifle connotes the supremacy on the gridiron between Morehead State College and Eastern."

Emma Lou Gullett—"The Hawg Rifle is the fighting of MSC."

Dan Beasley—"Having the Hawg Rifle back is an inspiration both to the team and the student body."

Scotty Copher—"Something that for four years I haven't seen. A great accomplishment! It has put Morehead in its place."

Jimmy Cracraft—"Since we've won it's given me more school spirit."

Bobbie Webb—"Something we have after eleven years."

James Smiley—"It means that I can go home and hold my head up high cause I've had brothers, relatives, and school friends go to Eastern and they have ridden me about MSC's being a school without a Hawg Rifle."

Pool hall. There he was slouching over the soft green table with a cue stick in his hand and a cigarette dangling loosely from his lips. Ralph wringed his nose in disgust as he stood there as though he was staring into a dirty cage at the zoo.

Through the heavy door he barged and, standing close behind his brother, spoke through clenched teeth to Johnny, you had better come on home with me. It's getting pretty late."

The broad hard shoulders turned slowly around, and Ralph's anger slowly subsided. He could think clearly again. "I can't leave him in there. Mom would be worried sick. Besides, who does he think he is, smarting off like that just because he had his hoodlums friends to back him up." Resolutely, he turned and once more plunged into the stifling atmosphere.

"Yeah, go on home," came a loud voice from somewhere in the smoke. "You ain't yer brother's keeper."

With the couple laughter behind the swinging doors and the cool night air bathing his burning face, Ralph's anger slowly subsided. He could think clearly again. "I can't leave him in there. Mom would be worried sick. Besides, who does he think he is, smarting off like that just because he had his hoodlums friends to back him up." Resolutely, he turned and once more plunged into the stifling atmosphere.

Deciding that he would get nowhere with threats and loud warnings, Ralph walked quietly up to his brother and spoke pleadingly: "Johnny, please come on home with me. Mom will be frantic, and," he added with a tinge of menace, "Dad will really raise the roof when he comes home and I tell him the way you have been acting."

"All right, all right, dammit! Anything to get you off my back."

'East Of Eden' Show In Button Auditorium Dec. 8

The Literary Arts Club has in store for you the movie, East of Eden, on Thursday, Dec. 8. Adapted from the fine novel by John Steinbeck, the movie has received much acclaim that likewise came earlier to the book.

To try to review the movie sufficiently would take up too much space and certainly with a writer of the caliber of John Steinbeck to discuss, there are too many facets of his life to understand in order to render his book justice.

I find his books to be most helpful expressions of his views on human nature and in the simplicity of their expression are profound in their insight. If John Steinbeck has not been an acquaintance of yours then meet him vicariously through the movie East of Eden being shown in Button Auditorium at 7:30 in the evening.

MUSIC NOTES

By Thelma Barker and Zina Hamrick

Connie Francis is the hottest personality in the entertainment field today. Her husky contralto—full, rich, vibrant, soothing, exciting—packs a powerful punch. And Connie's ability to carry a tender ballad, or belt out a fast-paced novelty in a dynamic, hard-driving style—all her own—combined with her vivacious TV and stage presence, has taken her to the top of her profession.

She has been in the pop 100 for 105 weeks, a vocal stature worthy of the title: Best Female Singer of 1960.

In her often rough climb to the top, Connie's footholds were her strong natural talent, plus an intense desire, an unrelenting determination, a little bit of luck, and a lot of faith on her part and on the part of her family, her co-workers and her associates.

Her life is a constant struggle, a constant battle. Teachers recognized her unusual voice and always has a special place for her in classroom singing groups.

But it was the "big box" that launched Connie's show business career. She went to audition for George Schreck's show in Newark at the age of 11.

Connie got the part on Schreck's show, and officially changed her name for TV to Connie Francis. Before long, she was singing as well as playing the accordion on the weekly show. She grasped TV properly—lighting, camera work, wardrobe, make-up, direction—as easily as she did singing routines, became Schreck's assistant and even directed the show a few times during the four years she appeared on it.

Four years later, Connie signed a recording contract with MGM records. But success was still out of reach. She made seven or eight records for MGM, sang in the soundtracks of "Jamboree" and "Rock, Rock, Rock," but nothing big happened.

Connie's first big record was "Who's Sorry Now" which sent the little girl with the big voice on her way.

Her life as record queen keeps her on a perpetual trend-mill of TV shows, nightclub engagements, personal appearances, dress fittings, rehearsals—a jam-packed, tiring daily schedule that leaves her little time to herself. But, despite its hectic pace, Connie loves her life.

FOR PROJECTS

Scuba Divers Attempting To Buy Equipment

By DAVE MASTERS

Trail Blazer Feature Editor. You've heard the term Scuba Divers being used on the campus many times, but like us you probably didn't know what it meant or what the club did.

For a most succinct definition, Scuba means—without further breathing apparatus. The diver is face mask and fins for early exhalation and a diving tank for air at shallow depths. This, along with the snorkel, is basic equipment and can be utilized to learn the fundamentals of diving and can go into more advanced work at greater depths and at longer periods of time.

The snorkel is comparatively inexpensive and allows for extended periods on or near the surface of the water and also can be used to some extent below the surface.

With this equipment the members of the Scuba Divers Club will learn how to tank a compressed air that allows longer time underwater. One problem of this is the cost. A good outfit costs about $200 and the members must have it when just beginning. Another problem of the tank is the method of filling it. Special equipment is required to fill the tank to the proper pressure, air under 300 lb. pressure. In order to fill it one must go to Lexington, Ashland, or some other city. The club is now working to get an air compressor to take care of this problem. It should also be taken into consideration that this equipment is relatively dangerous and the proper procedures will have to be planned for later.

Another piece of fear in the tentative stage is the cold-water suit. This suit can be used in extremely cold water and will keep the diver warm at all times even if some water were to get into the suit. This, too, like the tank is fairly expensive and must be planned for later.

Perhaps now we should state the main purpose of the club. It is to conduct scientific research in the various areas of Eastern Kentucky to determine the thermoclines so as to know the various levels of temperature and the various organisms that will be able to survive and thrive in these lakes. This will be pure research in that there is no or comparatively little work done in this area as now there is no one in Eastern Kentucky who will be able to observe the various organisms in their natural environment and for indefinite periods of time, which will be of much aid in discovering their habits day by day.

As an inducement to prospective members, a movie will be shown that gives a complete picture of underwater work, called "The Silent World" taken from a book by Captain Jacques Cousteau. Mr. Hazel, our teacher, is the designer of the first successful scuba diving apparatus. The Scuba Divers Club, made up of a handful of 20 members invited to the club by the college pool on Wednesday nights at 7:30 to observe one of their meetings and learn from the club, also has their sponsor, some future plans of the club.

Hazel To Speak At Literary Meet

Robert Hazel, author of The Last Year and A Field Full of People will speak to the Literary Arts Club tonight in their regular meeting.

Mr. Hazel, a teacher at the University of Kentucky, was a member of the Writer's Workshop staff this summer at Morehead State College as a consultant in poetry, fiction, and the essay.

Other than his two books, his poetry has appeared in such magazines as Hopkins Review, The Provincetown Review, and New Masses. During the Morehead Writer's Workshop this summer, he gave a reading and program has been in the latest poems, "Indiana," and "Sleep in August," "Sleep in August" appeared in the 1960 edition of Lucky Writing, "Dark Unquiet Land."

Literary Arts Club will hold its meeting tonight at 7:30 on the ground floor of Fields Hall.

Annual Professional Day To Be Held Nov. 22

The first annual Professional Day will be held on the Morehead State College campus on Nov. 22 during the week honoring education. An exciting program has been planned for those attending that will begin at 8:00 o'clock in the morning and end at 3:30 in the afternoon.

Marlene Messer will preside over the program. Dr. Adron Doran will give the welcome address. The keynote speaker for the day will be Dr. Karl Berns, NEA Assistant Executive.

Four sessions will be held during the day to discuss the professional standards and ethics of teachers.

They're right! Band day activities were changed slightly due to weather complications. The Morehead State College Band presented a concert to the visiting bands. The Boone County Band which made a concert to the visiting bands. The Boone County Band which made a concert to the visiting bands. The Boone County Band which made a concert to the visiting bands.

Where the crowd lives! It is surprising how much spirit you can pull out of people when they feel their life is in danger. In Chapel before the Eastern game Dr. Doran explained seriously how Castro could come here and we would have no protection. After that little heart-to-heart talk, the students could have taken the goat from the Navy.

You can tell a freshman by his books and such. You can tell an upperclassman, but you can't tell him much.

As only a freshman could write a theme: "I am nervous and have high pretension."

Why I came to college I came to college to be with but ain't yet. I am wasting my time in college—There is a lot of nonsense going around. People think if he (Mr. Kennedy) is elected the Pope in England will tell him what to do.

One long one: I was restoration day in school. It was raining but very little.

My Trouble with English Every time the word English appears before me I have heart failure.

A SHORT STORY

'To Abide In The Light'

fast. "Oh God, not another lecture. Who in the hell do you think you are, big man, to tell me what to do?"

"I'm not trying to tell you what to do, you stupid little punk. You're not worth the trouble. I'm only giving you a warning."

"Well, I don't need your warnings or your advice. Just because you're three years older than me and make straight A's in school you think you can run me."

"What in the devil do my grades in school have to do with it?"

"Ever since I can remember, you've lorded it over me because you think you're so smart; because you're in the top of your class, and I can hardly pass. Well, I'm getting pretty fed up with you and your brain."

"Oh, you're crazy," Ralph retorted as he started to turn on the TV.

"Crazy am I? I'll show you who's crazy. Now, you listen to me for a minute. I've had to listen to you all my life. Since I was in the first grade, all my teachers have looked up my name and said, 'Oh, you must be Ralph Anderson's little brother. I only hope you're half as good a student as he was.' Well, they stopped their sweet talk when they found out I wasn't half as good or even a fourth as smart as you were. That's all I've ever heard."

He mimicked cynically, "Johnny, I just can't understand what the matter with you. You're certainly not like your brother. Good God! Do I have to be like my brother? I got sick and tired of trying to live up to your glorious reputation. No matter how hard I worked, I could never be the student that you were. Your brilliant brother was. Well, my god, I just quit trying. There wasn't any need to."

Ralph remained silent all through Johnny's lengthy protestations. Only now did he speak. "Well, what in the heck do you want me to do about it, start falling?"

FAILURE

"I don't want you to do anything. I might have known that you wouldn't understand. You haven't understood anything except what you read in those stinking books. You're nothing but a snobbish, egotistical stuffed shirt. You never understood me and you never will. You want to know why? Well, I'll tell you why. Because you don't care for anyone but yourself, you and your damned books."

"Now listen to me, you cheap punk. You're not going to talk to me like that and get away with it. You're just lazy and stupid, and you're using that sob story about having to live up to my past as an excuse."

"Oh, go to hell. I don't have to listen to your preachin'. Tell me that I stayed all night with Don. I'm going back where somebody'll think that I'm human again."

Before Ralph could utter another word, Johnny had slammed the car door behind him and stomped down the street. "Nuts to him. May as well let him go. I've wasted enough time on him as it is. He started the motor with a roar and drove the two miles home rationalizing the fact that he had left Johnny in the company of those damn books. Having satisfied his mother with the prepared lie, he went on to bed with no more thoughts concerning the subject."

The next morning at school, the two boys passed in the hall, but neither spoke. However, Ralph felt a disturbing light of pain and guilt at his brother's contemptuous sneer, a feeling that he failed to shake off as he walked briskly to the first period class.

When he entered the room, the frail little teacher came scurrying up to him. "Ralph, will you please read the Bible verse this morning?" This one right here," she said, pointing her bony finger on the satiny page.

REALIZATION

He glanced carelessly down at the chosen verse, reading silently to himself. "He that loveth his brother abideth in the light and there is none occasion of stumbling in him." Ralph's brow knitted painfully as he read on. "But he that hateth his brother abideth in darkness, and knoweth not where he goeth . . . that darkness hath blinded his eyes."

Outside, the hard morning clouds were breaking up into little golden fleeces, and the sun came shining through the window on the opened page, making it even harder to read with the one small tear glistening in the young man's eye.

CHARGE—Fullback Buford Crager puts Morehead ahead to stay with his four-yard plunge for the TD against Eastern. Crager set up the score by going 14, 12, and 11 yards on previous plays in the series. Opening this wide hole for Crager are (23) Paul West and (41) Richard Humphrey. Blocking like this helped Crager pick up 284 yards in 70 carries during the course of the season to put him second behind Howard Murphy in rushing. Schutte is shown in the background and (40) Richie Emmons is set to make a futile attempt to bring Crager down.

SHUTTE ON THE ROLL OUT—Quarterback Henry Schutte looks for a receiver as backs Paul West and (42) Oscar Phillips look for James Kenan and Eastern's (25) Gene Blackwelder. Morehead later scored on a similar play when Schutte hit West with a 23-yard aerial for the score to give the Eagles a 7-0 lead in the first stanza.

MSC Eagles Bast Eastern 21-9; 'Hawg Rifle' Is Home

Ye Ole 'Hawg Rifle' Is Of 1936 Vintage

We got it and we are going to keep it!" shouted Morehead State College's proud football team as they brought home the coveted "Hawg Rifle" for the first time in 11 years.

For the first time in 11 long years the "Hawg Rifle" returns to its resting place, a glass case over the entrance of College Cafeteria.

A place which Eagle fans hope will hold it for many years to come.

Heading the list as one of the longest standing rivalry-filled traditions on the Morehead campus, gridiron units from Eastern and MSC have been fighting tooth and nail since 1949 for the "Hawg Rifle" was first initiated.

Back in the pioneering days of the presently thriving Morehead State College, the Campus Club realized the need for a trophy to symbolize the great rivalry between the Eagles and the Maroons. Comparable to the "Old Wooden Buckets" that symbolizes the rivalry of Indiana and Purdue or the "Old Beer Kegs" symbol of the famed Kentucky-Tennessee clash, the "Hawg Rifle" appeared to be a trophy that not only tie Morehead

Eagle Soccer Team Loses Tournament After U. L. Win

The first annual soccer tournament in Kentucky college history was won by Berea Saturday, November 12 at Transylvania College in Lexington, Kentucky.

As the first match Morehead encountered Louisville, a team that has been organized for the past several years, and defeated the Cardinals 3-0. Berea was victorious over Transy in the second preliminary match by defeating the Transylvania Pioneers 2-0 to put them in the championship match against the "soccer" Eagles of Morehead.

In the final match Berea outscored MSC 5-1 for the championship. Louisville defeated Transy 4-3 in the consolation match.

Morehead, received a runner-up trophy and was presented the Louisville University flag by the Louisville team in a ceremony similar to the one prior to the Olympic soccer matches.

BH Contreras, captain of the Morehead State College team, scored one goal and assisted two others in the match with Louisville.

Morehead was the most Americanized team in the journey. Berea having only one American on the team. The other teams were dominated by foreign students.

Morehead, Berea, Transylvania, and Louisville are the only four soccer teams in Kentucky. These teams are now working on a plan for organizing a soccer league becoming with these four teams.

There is too much blab-blah and hush-hush in this world.

As yet, we haven't seen a do-it-yourself operating kit.

When asked about his ambition, Turman said, "I'd like to be successful as a high school coach and to treat my students like my own children—giving them a fatherly example to follow." Lige is studying for a M.A. in Education for the principalship.

Concerning the true aspect and purpose of sports, Turman said, "The point is not only to win or lose but to achieve sportsmanship in every area which will profit every individual in his daily life."

In the third match of the week the Buckets, led by Tom Haas and Larry Wilson defeated the Kards in all three games. Larry Wilson had games of 200, 203 and 226 to record a Morehead State College Bowling league record with a 659 series. In Wilson's third game he threw seven strikes in succession to win the 226 and lead his team to victory. Notes From

The Eagle Nest

By LEE MUELLER
Trail Blazer Sports Editor

"Hawg Rifle," we love you truly. After being led astray by Eastern these past 11 years, we have returned you and brought you back to your natural habitat, Morehead State College. Needless to say, dear "Hawg Rifle," we intend to keep you, not for just this year, but for many, many seasons to come.

Behind this supreme effort by the football team as a whole, stands the entire MSC student body who virtually "pushed" the Eagles up and down the field with their manifestations of school spirit and support.

This victory, it can be truly said, was a school victory. On paper, of course, the game belongs to about 20 or 30 boys, but in reality the contest was won by some 600 or more students who made us take to Richmond to, if you will pardon the originality, "Bring back the Hawg Rifle." And bring it back they did, all of them.

At the time of this writing, certain rumors have it that Morehead could have a possible first-string all-OVC halfback in Howard Murphy. Also being talked of in the elite circle are Tom Scott, Henry Schutte and Buford Crager.

Murphy was the club's leading rusher with 540 yards in 86 carries. Schutte was the OVC's total offense leader with 940 total yards. Scott was one of the leaders in what proved to be one of the most exciting recent years here at MSC. Captain Crager was a standout on defense as well as a prolific ground gainer for Coach Guy Penny's crew.

OVC WRAP-UP
Final Ohio Valley Conference statistics show two Morehead Eagles up to top in two departments, with a possible third, depending on the official record of Gordon Mason in Thanksgiving Day's game with Middle Tennessee.

Quarterback Henry Schutte has grabbed total-offense honors with 940 total yards. He is the first player to lead in this category, but that lead seems doomed as his nearest rival, Mason of Tennessee Tech, is behind only 11 yards and seems sure of walking off with that department head, barring injuries. Schutte, one of the really fine quarterbacks in MSC history, compiled 724 yards in the air and 354 on the ground for his total.

The other department leader was alternate quarterback Mike Brown who led the conference in punting with an average of 35.3 per boot.

Freshman Howard Murphy, ran loose and fast against Eastern compiling 123 yards in 15 carries to leap from fourth to second in the rushing department, but several of his competitors still have or had a game to play at the time of this writing.

MSC WELL REPRESENTED IN TOURNEY
Morehead State College graduates dominated the annual Scholarship Invitational Basketball Tournament held here on Nov. 11-12.

Not only was a majority of the players on the team, but all four coaches and . . . no comment please, both officials were Morehead graduates.

Coach Maybach, pilot of the victorious Shamrock club; Donnie Gaunce, coach of runner-up Owingville; Howard Shumate, head coach at Vanceburg and Warren Cooper, head coach at Rowan County High School.

All of these men played major roles in some of the great Morehead basketball teams.

Steve Hamilton, one of the two officials, was one of the top players ever produced by Morehead State as student manager to one of the fine basketball teams fielded by Coach Bob Laughlin.

HAWG RIFLE IS MOVED
The previously mentioned "Hawg Rifle" has been moved by our Student Council to the College Cafeteria.

President Gary North said, "It took us long enough to get it, why hide it away so that only our students will be able to see it when they go to convocation or a Breckinridge basketball game. The reason it was placed there in the first place was because that was where Morehead used to play all of their home games before the new fieldhouse was built." North went on to say, "At its new location all school personnel and visiting dignitaries will be able to see what we all fought so hard for that Saturday."

SOCCER TEAM SHINES
Morehead's first soccer team put on a brilliant exhibition for first timers at Lexington a couple of weeks ago to become runner-up in the first intercollegiate soccer tournament held in Kentucky.

The Morehead contingent, coached by Dr. Zadia Herrold, put on a show, or two shows, for Morehead fans who were probably viewing their first soccer game. Herrold's men clipped experienced Louisville in the first round but lost to even more experienced Berea in finale. The sport is rapidly catching on and some of the braver soccer players are predicting the rest of the OVC teams will get the point and then who knows? A league maybe?

SLOAN BREAKS U. K. MARK
Sophomore Ireland Sloan, a cross country man who has never been defeated in a regular season meet in his collegiate career, came home first to set a new record at the University of Kentucky's home track, Piccadillo Golf Course, even though Morehead lost the meet by 27.28.

QUESTION ? ? ? ? ?
Will Henry Schutte hold his thin passing lead of 11 yards over Tennessee Tech's Gordon Mason . . . Do you think Granville Williams will become a two sport man? Cross country and basketball . . . How will this year's freshman basketball team, coached by Luke Kelly, compare with last year's terrific squad? Prominent figures seem to be Cecil Clouty product; Roy Ward, a Louisville product; Camargo ace and Steve Miller, a Louisville product . . . Looking ahead, will Earl Bentley's track team take all the marbles in the OVC track meet? . . . Who will be the first to feel the life of Morehead's "Dangerous Deans" this winter? Eastern or Western . . . Anybody know the answers to these questions? ? ? ? ?

JOKES
As they always say, "Leave 'em laughin'." Well, at least try to anyway . . . Sometimes professors misjudge a football player's intelligence quotient. The teacher was examining the next husky prospect, and after asking a few simple and innocent questions which were answered correctly, he shot out with, "If Alaska is the biggest state in the Union, how old am I?"

The husky youngster paused before replying, "Forty-eight," he finally answered.

"Up went the professor's eyebrows. 'Right!' he exclaimed. 'How did you figure that out?'"

"Oh, it's just a simple problem in arithmetic," replied the husky youngster. "I've got a friend who is only half-crazy and he's twenty-four!"

Intramural Basketball Underway

The Morehead Eagles basketball season starts Dec. 1, but MSC intramural basketball began Nov. 17, when the Rompers met Bach's Bombers in the old gym at 6:30 p. m.

Morehead State College's Director of Intramurals, Coach Rex Chaney, has released the intramural basketball program for the 1960 season.

XC Squad Cops Tourney

One of the strongest cross country teams in Morehead State College's history won first place in the William Jennings Bryant Invitational Tournament last Saturday by proclaiming themselves to be the best small college "hill and dale" unit in the South.

The Eagles placed three runners in the first 10 while taking team honors with 44 points. Morehead was followed by Middle Tennessee Tech 75. A total of 11 schools competed in the meet.

Sloan Breaks Mark
Ireland Sloan, fastest cross country man ever to run for a MSC, added another record to his long list of victories.

His 21:43.4 snipped Troy State's 22:52.8, which was the only time Sloan was ever beaten in a cross country meet. Corrigan is now at Michigan State on a full scholarship.

He had previously broken the famed Carl Deaton's record time for that four-mile course.

Finishing sixth for the Morehead crew was dependable Lee Roy Massey with a respectable time of 24:07. Massey is now in his second season in the cross country sport.

Speedy Ronnie Lykins finished right behind Massey with a time of 24:15.

Finishing in the number 12 spot was Wallace Whisenand with a time of 26:13 and number 20 was Richard Green with a 27:28 time.

Next on the Eagle schedule is the Shamrock Invitational, one of the biggest, if not the biggest, cross country meets in the country. It is very select few among the small colleges. Morehead was one of the three selected. All SEC were given including last year's winner Mississippi State.

The first meeting of the Council of Presidents was held in the Dorn Student House on Oct. 15, 1967.

Sloan Sets Course Record With 20:47.3 Time; UK Edges MSC

The University of Kentucky Wildcat barriers slipped past Morehead 27:28 as a crowd of about 300 watched Morehead's Ireland Sloan break a record with a 20:47.3 time over the 4 mile course. He finished the first 2 miles in 10 minutes flat and came on strong in the final two giving him the record breaking time.

The previous record time of 21:37.2 was posted by Vanderbilt's Press Whelan. Sloan, who is undefeated in cross-country, finished nearly a minute ahead of Whelan's time.

The loss to U. K. lowered Morehead's season record to 4:2. Morehead's only other loss came by the hands of powerful University of Cincinnati. The victory gave UK a 4-4 season mark.

BAXTER TAKES 2D
John Baxter of UK finished second and Allen Cleaver placed third. Morehead's Leroy Massey came in fourth and Don Jurter of Kentucky was fifth. Morehead's Ron Lykins placed sixth.

The meet was Kentucky's final until the SEC event at Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 21. The Wildcats are the defending SEC champions.

Morehead completes its schedule in the William Jennings Bryant Invitational on November 19 and Louisville's annual Shamrock Run on November 24.

President and Mrs. Doran were featured guests of the Big Sandy Bowl at Paintsville, Nov. 4. The Veterans Club also played a prominent role in the festivities.

Each year an outstanding Kentuckian is invited as guest to crown the queen and participate in the activities. This year the Bowl chose the "Kentuckian of the Year".

After participating in the Bowl Parade, Dr. and Mrs. Doran attended a banquet for Bowl guests at the Paintsville Country Club.

Connie Walden of Paintsville was crowned Bowl Queen by Dr. Doran during halftime of the Lynch-MMI football game.

Eleven members of the MSC Vets Club representing the Marine Corps, Army, Navy and Air Force lead the 32 unit parade.

The club members were introduced and paired off with the candidates for the queenship upon arrival in Paintsville. At halftime the members, dressed in blazers of the service organization, escorted the candidates onto the field.

"Morehead State College certainly was well represented at the Bowl Day," said Paul Trimble, Principal of Paintsville High School and President of the Johnson County MSC Alumni Club. "We are glad those participating could find time to join us in the day's activities," he said.

Total Campus Club Members Give Blood In Council's Drive

By WANDA PEACE

The Red Cross Bloodmobile unit was on the MSC campus to receive donations of blood from students and faculty members on Mon., Nov. 14.

The unit visits the college twice yearly for this purpose, generally during the months of November and May.

Fifty-one people, including 12 women and 39 men, contributed a pint of blood to this cause. Two of the Morehead donors were faculty members.

Each donor received a free pass to the Trail Theatre. In addition a door prize of $7.50 was given to one lucky donor, James Birchwell. Awards were given to the clubs having the highest percentage of their members contributing.

The $15 first-place award went to the Campus Club which had 100 per cent of its members donating a pint of blood. Second place, with an award of $7.50, was held by the Newman Club, and the third place $5 award was won by the Student Council.

The project is sponsored by the MSC Student Council.

ON THE CAMPUS Speech And Debate Activities Numerous

By DAVE MASTERS

T-11 Blazer Feature Editor

A person who enters the field of Debate has to be quite an unusual person. For a starter he has to be willing to work long and hard to master his subject and then be able to convey his ideas to the opposing team.

For another point he has to enjoy meeting people and discussing important questions that all thinking people are aware of in the world. And his manner of speaking must be brief, pertinent, and factual. This comes through long hours of practice, extensive reading, and ability to digest and condense material so that it will be on hand when needed.

Sounds very difficult, but then again Debate has its high moments of success, its light moments of companionship, its opportunities to see many different colleges and universities, and a period of comparing other parts of the country with Morehead and Kentucky.

What it has to offer in personal pride and college spirit de corps, since you are representing yourself and your college to the best of your ability, is worth all the work that goes into it.

Think this over student! Think hard about how you might want to be a representative of Morehead State College in such an area. Take in account the traveling afforded, the satisfaction of being a member of the Debate Team and the honor that will accrue to Morehead State College because of your contribution. Nor should you hesitate because of the fear that debate is only for Speech and Debate majors. This is not the idea behind the program, rather the belief is that anyone, no matter what field, can be a member if he or she has the desire and will to do it.

As an added inducement look at some of the places that you, as a member, could go.

Would you vote for this man for President?

He's uncouth, he's illiterate, he's completely irresponsible.

His table manners are frightful. His talk is pure gibberish. He thinks with the mind of a one-year-old.

Let's face it, he's a mess.

Yet in thirty-five short years this unpromising individual could become the President of the United States.

Meanwhile, somebody's going to have to shape him up.

A lot of people will share this monumental task. His parents, His playmates, His teachers. All of them must help him realize, among other things, that if he hopes to continue his education, only hard work and good marks will qualify him for college training. Probably the most awesome responsibility of all will fall to the college he chooses at the age of eighteen. For it is in college that he must mature from a carefree youth to a responsible, thinking man. Let's pray that he is admitted to one of the finest universities in the land.

What are his chances?

Unfortunately, not too good. Many of our colleges are overcrowded today. In ten years applications are expected to double. By 1970, many potential presidents may be turned away at the gates. Others may suffer from mediocre instruction. For in the face of this impending crisis, low salaries are forcing gifted teachers to leave the campus for better paying jobs elsewhere.

We must reverse this disastrous trend. Won't you do your part? Support the college of your choice now! Help it to expand its facilities and pay teachers the salaries they deserve. Not just our choice of President, but our whole future as a nation may depend on it.

It's important for you to know what the impending college crisis means to you. Write for a free booklet to HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

Miss Russell Guest Lecturer Of Home Ec Dept.

A series of special programs on "Teaching Nutrition through Visual Aids" was given in the Home Economics Department of Morehead State College for home economics and elementary education students on Friday, Nov. 18.

As announced by Miss Patti Bollen, head of the Home Economics Department, who directed the meeting, the guest lecturer was Miss Ann Russell, Mid-South nutrition representative of the American Institute of Baking, Chicago.

Miss Russell's lecture for the home economics classes were held at 10:45 in Room 415 of Lappin Hall. She included a discussion of the essentials of food selection, dramatized through use of a flamboyant presentation of a Foodway to Follow. The Foodway illustrates the U.S. Department of Agriculture's plan based on these four major food groups: (1) enriched bread and whole grain bread or cereal; (2) milk or cheese; (3) meat or its alternate; (4) fruits and vegetables.

Consideration was given to the dietary needs of teenagers, with emphasis placed on breakfast and ways to teach a breakfast unit. Miss Russell also included points on maintaining normal weight as well as weight reduction.

For the lecture to elementary education class, scheduled at 6:30-8:10 in 100 Lappin Hall, the guest lecturer stressed new approaches to teaching nutrition at various levels—pre-school, early elementary, junior high—through use of a variety of dramatic visual aids. Miss Russell has pioneered in introducing simple nutrition facts to very young children, and her experience as a nutritionist and home economics educator brings a depth of understanding of the problems of teaching nutrition.

Formerly, Miss Russell was a state supervisor of the Farmer's Home Administration, U.S. Department of Agriculture, and enjoyed an enthusiastic audience for her radio and TV homemaking program. In her present position, she works with educators, extension groups, and public health organizations.

Dean Earle Saunders has been Associate Dean of Students at MSC since 1958. She came here from Flemingsburg, Ky.

Do You Know The History Of Thanksgiving?

The Pilgrim Fathers, in serving with turkey with the goose, inaugurated one of the most cherished American traditions: the turkey dinner. Thanksgiving Day.

They also drank, according to the ancient European tradition, the first wine of their wild grape harvest. Pumpkin pie and cranberry sauce, not part of the first Thanksgiving dinner in America but were introduced many years afterward.

The second Thanksgiving Day in the New World was held by the Pilgrims two years later, on July 30, 1621. It was formally proclaimed by the governor as a day of prayer to thank God for their deliverance from drought and starvation, and for the safe arrival from Holland of the ship Anne.

In 1683 Connecticut proclaimed a solemn day of thanksgiving to be kept annually on the last Wednesday in October. Other New England colonies held occasional local Thanksgivings at various times.

In 1789 the federal Congress authorized and requested President George Washington to proclaim a day of thanksgiving for the whole nation. Washington did this message setting aside Nov. 26, 1789 as National Thanksgiving Day.

After 1789 the celebration reverted to local and regional observance for almost a hundred years. There grew, however, a strong desire among the majority of the people for a national Thanksgiving Day that would unite all Americans in a festival of gratitude and public acknowledgement for all the blessings God had conferred upon the nation.

It was not until Oct. 3, 1863, that President Lincoln issued, in the midst of the Civil War, a Thanksgiving Proclamation. In the last Thursday of November was set apart for that purpose and made a national holiday.

Since then, every president has followed Lincoln's example, and annually proclaims as a "Day of Thanksgiving" the fourth Thursday in November. Only President Franklin D. Roosevelt changed the date, in 1939, from the fourth to the third Thursday of November (to extend the time of Christmas sales). This caused a great deal of consternation and protest that in 1941 the traditional date was restored.

The original meaning and purpose of the observance as a harvest festival only been preserved but broadened and elevated into a national tribute of deep religious significance.

Thanksgiving OVC Crown In Balance

When Tennessee Tech and Middle Tennessee collide at Cookeville, Tenn., Thanksgiving Day, it will mark the fourth straight time the Ohio Valley Conference championship was hinged on the outcome of that classic.

Now 5-0 in loop play, Tennessee Tech is assured of at least a piece of the title. However, Middle Tennessee (4-1) must win to share the crown with Tech for the third year in a row. Middle Tennessee won the title outright by handing Tech its only league loss in 1967.

In the past 12 years, Middle Tennessee has won the conference title outright on two occasions and shared the running twice—all in the last four years. Tech, on the other hand, has shared the title three times and won sole possession twice.

In 34 meetings of the two teams, Tennessee Tech has won 16, Middle Tennessee 11 and several duels have ended in deadlocks.

Coach Wilburn Tucker's Golden Eagles of Tech lead the OVC both offensively and defensively with an average gain of 280.3 yards per game to the combined opposition's 221. Middle Tennessee, coached by Charles "Hubber" Murphy, is second in defense with a 228.6 average and fourth in offense (248.4).

Regardless of the outcome, Murphy's 14-year record of never having a losing season is safe since the Blue Raiders take a 5-4 overall mark into the holiday battle.

The Cosmopolitan Club, MSC's international relations organization, was founded in 1956 by Sung Ling Hong, who was then a student at MSC.

It's funny how some people thrive on politics.

They schedule themselves to arrive a day ahead in the city of each performance to rehearse with local orchestras and choruses.

They use 16 local singers picked earlier by the sponsoring organization for the chorus of shepherds. The action of the shepherds is simple enough to be well routinized in a few hours. Three dancers from each city are used to perform a short peasant dance during the opera.

The biggest problems to solve, now that the success of the production is assured, are ones of scheduling every city that wants it so that the cast can comply with all requests for performances and still leave a week free before Christmas for their annual television rehearsals in New York City.

This year's tour takes them as far west as Denver, as far south as Louisiana, and as far north as Michigan. On the agenda for the future seasons is a tour of California and a trip to France.
